In 1666 London was having with people the houses were squashed together and it was so tight they used candle light to see. and narrow streets which were in.

~~The~~ fire was essential at that time. Thom Farrier was a baker in ~~the~~ public house ~~and~~ he ~~got~~ got to put out the fire and the
the fire spread
back to the shop.

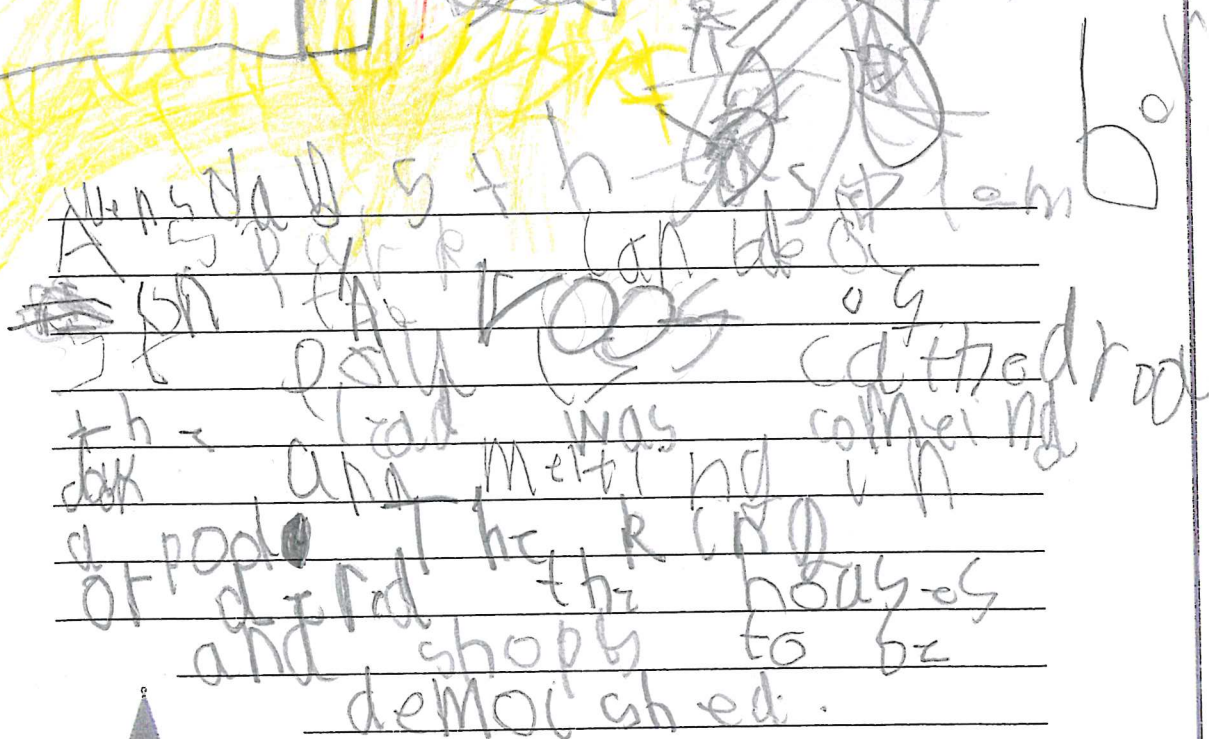

Sunday 2nd September
By these early hours
the fire spread
the wind the fire was heading towards London bridge

~~London~~

 Monday 3rd ~~2nd~~ September
The hot burning flames were destroying London.
The smoke was killing the people.

Tuesday 4th September

The fire was so hot people couldn't get close enough to put it out.

London was (un)recognisable mid in. FUELING. People were homeless because 3000 houses were destroyed along with 87 churches and whole streets were burnt even St Paul's cathedral was burnt to ash to mark
the like uncontrol
was to blow up things saw they the tower as London was safe
sincerely.

After the fire shops London needed to be rebuilt shops and houses needed to be built back they were strict rules.
