in London it sees the houses were being built people could store things across the street to their windows.

On the 1st September Thomas Farriner was baking for King Charles II. Suddenly Baker Thomas forgot to put out the fire and forgot to put out the

On Tuesday 4th September King Charles II ordered for the tall buildings to be pulled down.
The reason was to create and space to stop the spread of Monuments.
Many people ran to the
