

British Values

20th – 26th July

Rule of Law

The government have brought out a new rule that allows people to pay half price when they eat out at restaurants and cafés. This rule is to help the restaurants and cafés make money again after being shut for such a long time.